

Fun in and out of the sun.

The beach is a blast for dogs—just remember to provide plenty of fresh water. And bring an umbrella so your dog has it made in the shade!

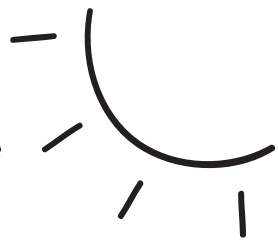

Landscape with pets in mind.

Many common outdoor and house plants are poisonous to dogs and cats. See our website for some examples of hazardous plants.

Help your dog keep his cool.

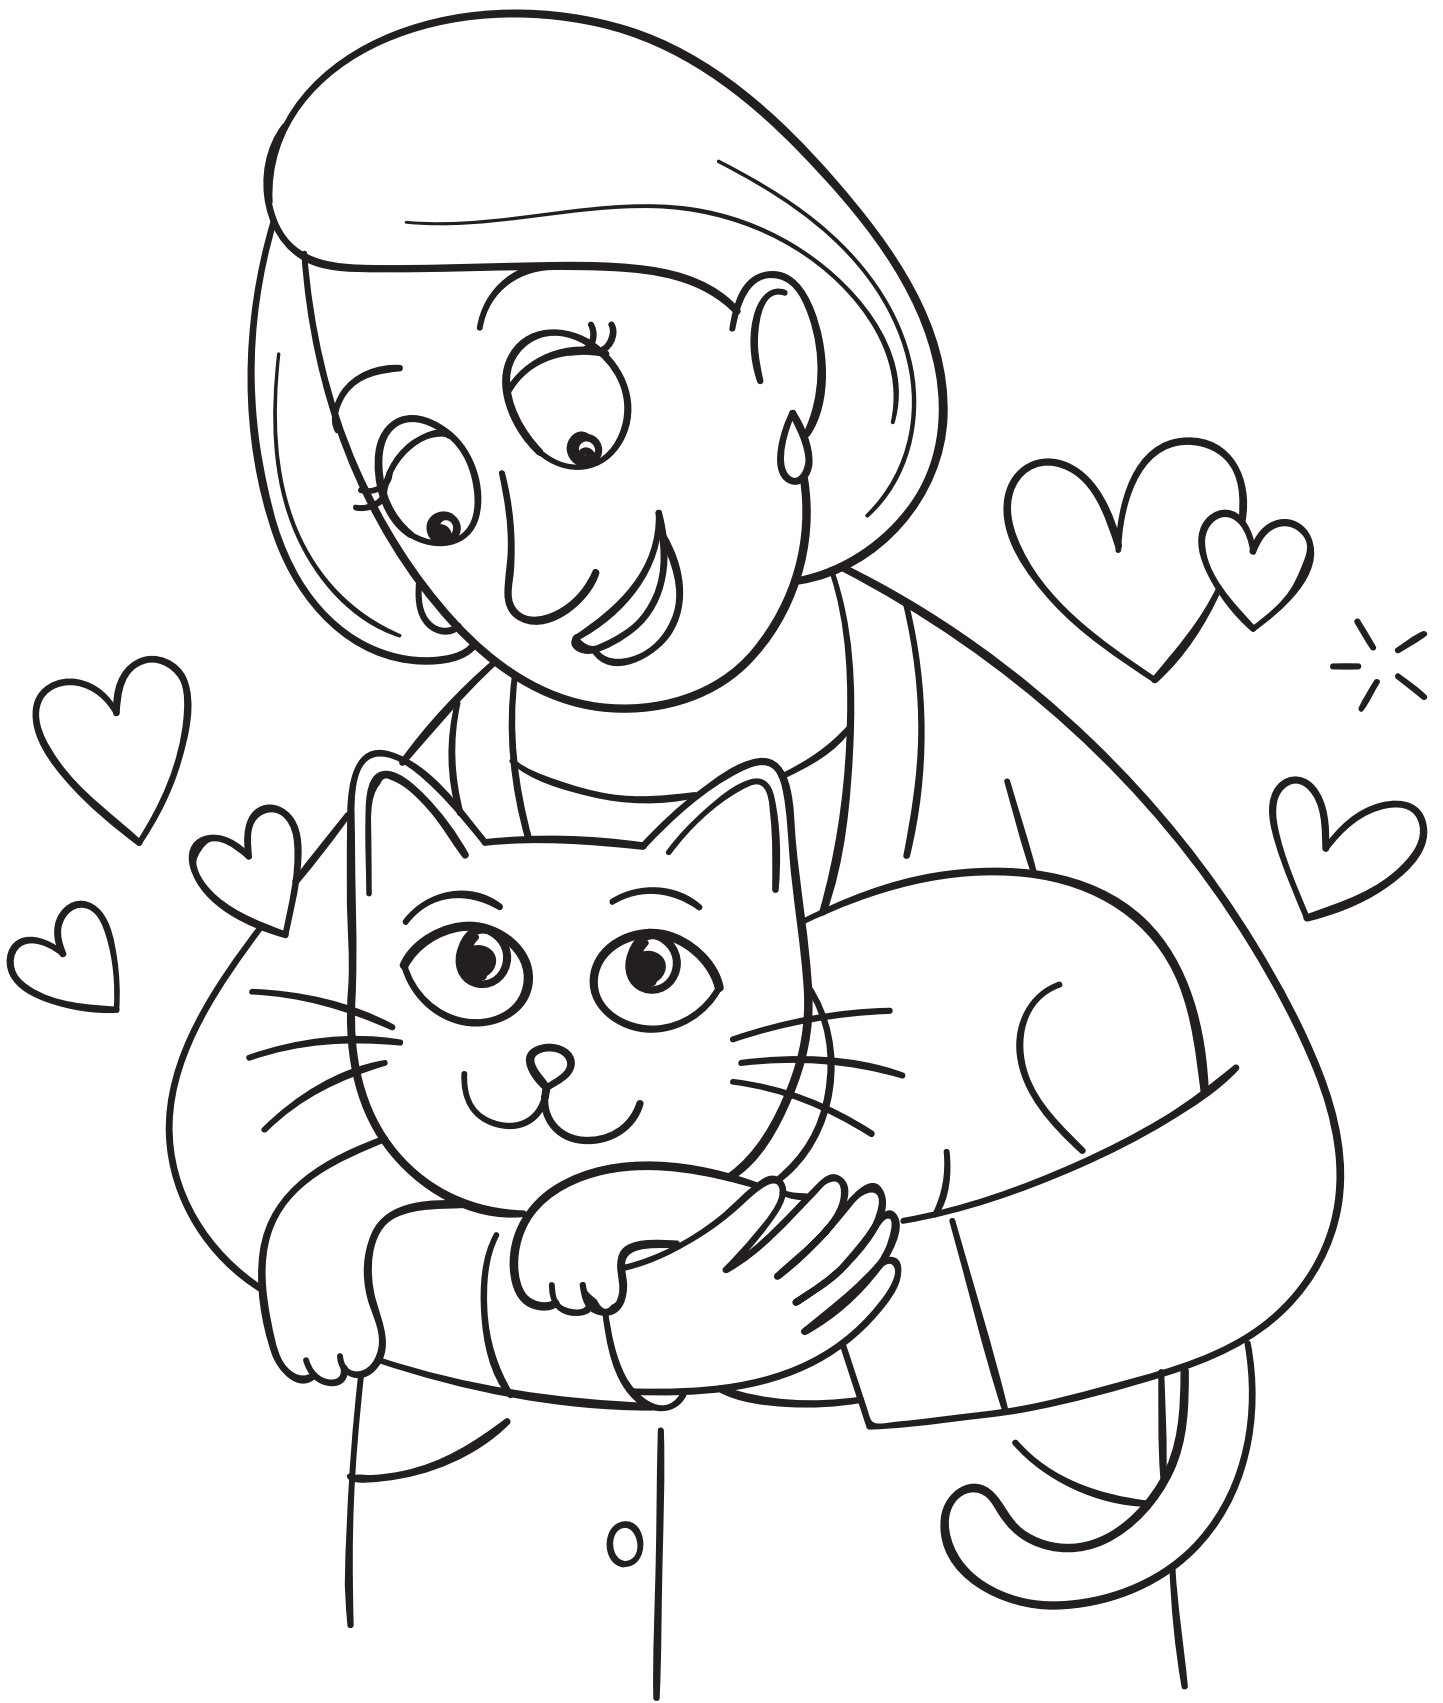

Never leave your dog in a car, because the temperature inside can rise quickly. Your dog will be much happier at home holding down your couch.

Help your dog swim safely.

Swimming is a great way to beat the summer heat, but not all dogs are natural swimmers. Most will instinctively doggy paddle if they find themselves in water, but just like us, they should always be wearing a life vest when they are in or around water.
